THE UNIVERSITY LIBRARIES

The University Library has four main branch libraries (including four information commons) across our many campuses. These libraries are open long hours and house our extensive collection of over 1.5 million books and other resources with over 30,000 new items added every year. This adds up to 48km of shelving filled full of the resources you need for your study.

The library also has different zones including quiet and group study zones.

Libraries:

- Auchmuty (Callaghan Campus)
- Huxley (Callaghan Campus)
- City Precinct (Newcastle CBD)
- Ourimbah (Central Coast Campus)

CONTACT US

There is always help available at the UoN libraries. You can ask any questions you have about the library or its resources at our information desks or by phoning us on:

WHO CAN JOIN?

Year 7-12 Secondary School Students

WHAT IS INCLUDED?

For $22 you can borrow up to 15 books and 12 audiovisual materials from a collection of over 1 million books.

Items excluded: journals, rare books, toys & off air recordings, BONUS+ and access to online resources.

Books can be borrowed for two weeks (unless it is a three day loan) or one week for audiovisual items. Items can be renewed once as long as they have not been requested by another borrower.

PHOTOCOPY SERVICES

You can use the photocopiers in the libraries. Either borrow a visitor's photocopy card or buy one from the cash autoloaders – just ask at the desk

SEARCHING FOR BOOKS

The Library has access to millions of books and other items. So you might ask the question "how do I go about finding stuff?" The answer is simple, you search our extensive online Library Catalogue (NEWCAT). The catalogue can be accessed by any computer connected to the internet. Simply visit <http://library.newcastle.edu.au>

While all computers at the library have access to the catalogue, we provide access to computers specifically for searching the Library catalogue. So when all the computers are being used for study, you still have access to the catalogue as well as a range of electronic information resources while you are on campus.

For more information about the library, including opening hours, check out our website at www.newcastle.edu.au/library

For more information about using the library check out the Library Services for High School Students website: <http://libguides.newcastle.edu.au/highschoolstudents>
